

A drawing of St. Therese by her sister Celine

Today, Jesus tells his disciples that following him must come first, even before family and those close to us. This means that every expression of love in our lives should be directed toward God. That doesn't mean that we love those close to us less; actually, we start loving them more—more prudently, more courageously, more chastely, more joyfully, more perfectly.

Jesus is God's love for us, and the little things done with great love each day are our response to His love.

May Christ in the Most Holy Eucharist strengthen us this week to love as God loves us through Christ.

~Fr. Michael
